

Acknowledgement:

2012 HKUST iGEM team would like to express our gratitude to the following individuals, institutions, organizations and companies. Without their kindly help and great support, our team can hardly have today's achievement.

Acknowledgement of wet lab:

Name	Contribution	Affiliation
Professor Wan-Keung R. WONG Dr. Yule Yue WANG	sharing experience and information in Bacillus subtilis engineering	Division of life science, HKUST
Dr. Sui-Lam WONG	Providing us valuable suggestions on choosing cell wall displaying system	Department of Biological Science, U. Calgary.
Ciarán CONDON, who	Providing us plasmid pMUTIN-ydcD, pDG148-ydcD and pDG148-ydcE.	Institut de Biologie Physico-Chimique
Professor Pingbo HUANG,	Providing HBE16 cell for our characterization work.	Division of Life Science, HKUST

Affiliation/ organization	Contribution
2010 Imperial college of London iGEM team	Sharing detailed information on their project with us.
Prince Wales Hospital	Providing us the cell line HT29, colon adenocarcinoma, for our characterization work.
Bacillu Genetic Stock Center	Providing us two strains of Bacillus and two integration vectors for our construction

Acknowledgement of Human Practice:

Name	Contribution	Affiliation
Miranda FUNG	Helping us contact local politicians and journalists. Giving us the contact information of Mr. Shum	School of Science, HKUST, Hong Kong.

	and Ms. Leung.
Dan SHUM	Our interviewee – the politician.	The Democratic Party, Wong Tai Sin District Councilor, Hong Kong
LEUNG Mei Po	Our interviewee – the journalist.	Reporter of Next Media, Hong Kong
Benjamin AU	Our interviewee – the university student.	BBA student, year 02, HKUST, Hong Kong.
Maurice SIU	Our interviewee – the secondary school student.	F.4. Student (High school year 1), Ying Wa College, Hong Kong.
Tammy LEUNG	Helping us with the presentation.	Head of Service, Hong Kong Cancer Fund, Hong Kong.
HSUEH Shiao Kuan	Helping us with the presentation.	Head of Wellness and Holistic Health Care, Hong Kong Cancer Fund, Hong Kong.
Raymond CHAN	Helping us with the presentation.	Supervisor, Hong Kong Cancer Fund, Hong Kong.